Kansas—Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday.

Morning Grain Letter.

Wheat market is figured as having an excellent chance to duplicate its high points. Export trade with England near a normal basis. The eastern grain dealers are bullish and believe some further advance in store. Forecast suggests fair weather. Corn belt was hot and dry on Tuesday with 92 to 96. Kansas temperature ran 102. The inquiry into food costs affects provisions. Small bulges due; packers are about to exhibit their books. Old corn ranges 80c to 83c and new oats 41c to 44c. The comparison is friendly to oats. The upturn of 6 cents in wheat covers two seasons. The last upturn to 103 1/2 for December wheat covered four succeeding seasons. Excitement of the early season of today. Cash men say cash corn and oats are in a firm position. If the grains are higher early today it will be common sense to await a reaction. We have more reports of 50 per cent for corn from Kansas and further complaints from Nebraska. Looks as if the September corn condition will be 68 to 70. Nebraska points have received about 40 per cent of their necessary rain in the past three weeks on top of a summer dry. La Salle county, northeast Illinois corn 50 per cent. Shepard, Ohio, six counties central Ohio corn 66 per cent. Rain badly needed; pastures dried up. Feeding stock. Superior, Neb., corn 30 per cent. Dornbusch makes 1914 world's wheat crop 100,000,000 below 1913. Much of continental crop lost for want of labor to harvest, he says. Europe raises 150,000,000 wheat below average of past two years. Map shows sectional rains in Nebraska and Kansas. Some in northwest. Not enough to be a serious factor.

Wagner's Review.

Corn market has encountered another dry hot spell which may lead to a 68 to 70 per cent September 1st condition. Crop promise is possibly reduced to 2,540,000,000 versus 2,365,000,000 last September. Continued hot and dry will mean further bulges.

The corn damage markets of 1913 and 1911 outlasted August and most of September. Market had a bulging tendency until around September 8 last year when May corn attained its famous crop making high of 75 1-2.

Wheat is a break purchase. As to what constitutes a break you can consult the August swings. December wheat jumped from 89 3-4 August 2 to 103 7-8, back to 93 3-8 and returned to $1.00. An average of 95c may be maintained on the downside. Write, as to the purchase.

Twenty days of a war basis have cleared the seas. England, Holland, Spain, Italy and Belgium can import wheat and flour. The U. S. can see 160,000,000 exports for 1914-15, at least, and a new consideration is the carrying of some of our wheat for late 1915 possibilities. Reserves were never more needed.

Oats. The east usually buys oats after September 1 when the oats are "in shape." The Chicago oats movement proceeds from Illinois, Iowa, south Minnesota and some from Indiana. The movement from shocks is about completed and receipts are due to be more leisurely.

Canada faces an oats shortage. Optimists figure that the U. S. may export 25,000,000 for war use which will keep the oats visible moderate all the crop year. The small 1914 corn crop

Beachey's Stunts Thrillers

How would you like to be the mother of a young man who is 5,900 feet in the air defying all laws of gravity and prudence, while thousands of spectators gaze in amazement and predict that this bold navigator of the air will never safely land his craft on terra firma?

Lincoln Beachey's mother has seen her boy loop the loop and fly upside down and she is not afraid. In Chicago ten weeks ago for the first time Mrs. Beachey saw her boy fly upside down. She had seen him fly but twice before in the usual manner. Batteries of cameras were trained on the gray haired mother and feature writers of all the Chicago papers were prepared to take notes of her emotions as reflected by her facial expression and nervous manner. But they were rewarded with nothing more than a placid smile. She was the least nervous of the quarter of a million persons who were cheering her boy.

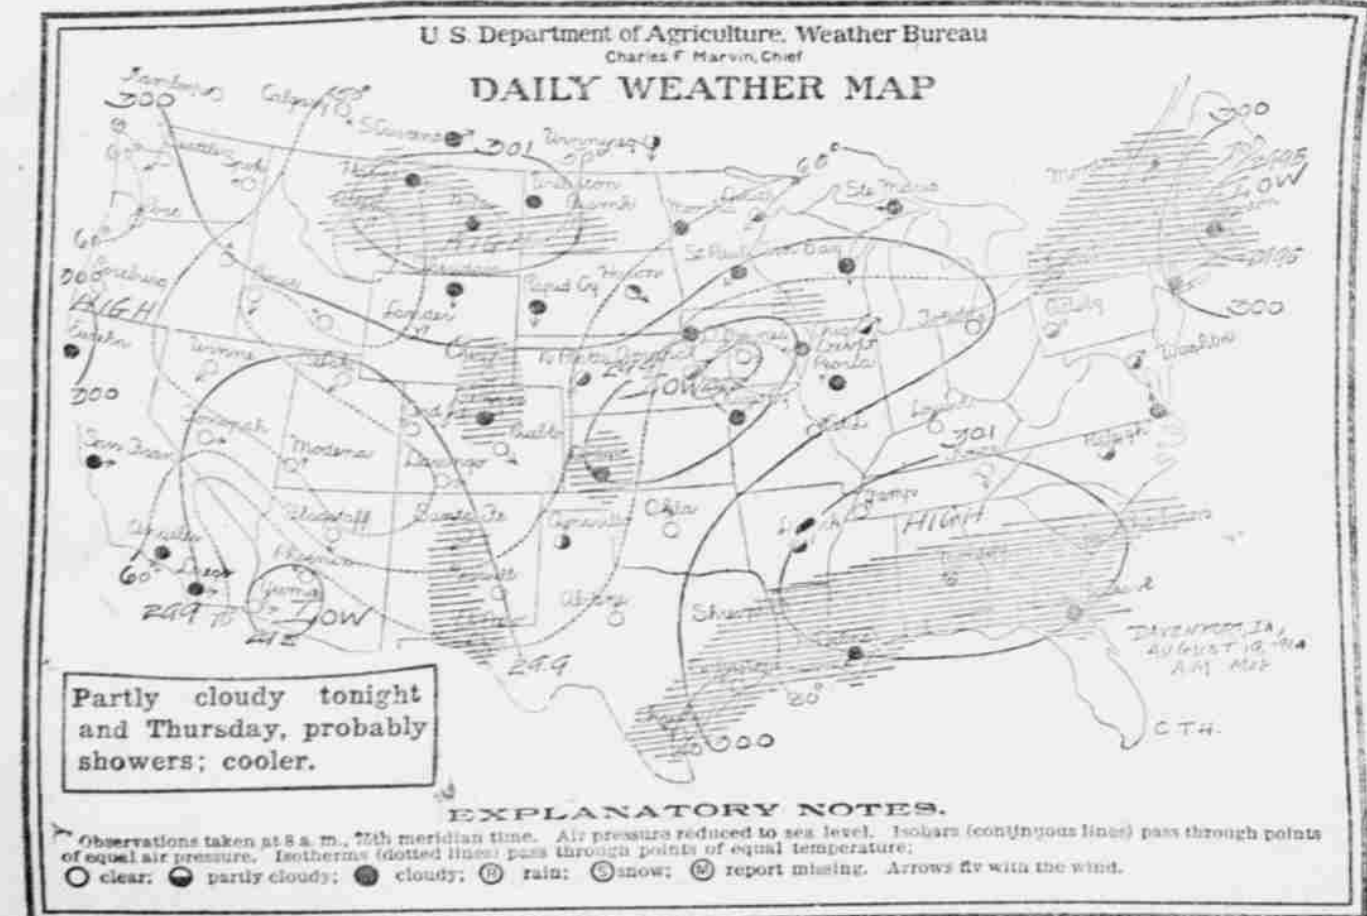

The reporters rushed up to be greeted with her, "No, I am not trembling, not at all. I read about his new feats in the paper and I knew he would do them today. As a little boy he never told me an untruth. He told me he would fly safely and come home safely and I have confidence in him. He knows what he is doing and I would take his word for anything before I would listen to anyone else. "Of course I am proud of him. I have always been, but I was just as proud when he won high honors in school in San Francisco years ago, as I am now. I am not afraid of his safety. He will always come back."

Beachey will appear in Rock Island, at Exposition park, next Saturday, Aug. 22, doing all his marvelous aerial evolutions and racing against a high powered racing automobile. He will also give a demonstration of the present European army aviation game by destroying a miniature battleship with high explosives from the skies. An excellent card of motorcycle races will be staged. Several of the speediest motorcycle whirled in the midwest have already entered for these events, including Bob Crawford, who made such a big showing in Davenport July 4.

It will be a great show throughout and it is safe to predict that Exposition park will not only have the most exciting day in its history but that a really record breaking crowd will be in attendance.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.
The area of low pressure shown on yesterday's map extends from the southern portion of the Rocky mountain region northeastward to New England, with separate centers over Arizona, Iowa and off the New England coast. This disturbance has again been attended by showers and thunderstorms on the eastern Rocky mountain slope and at scattered stations in the Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys, the lake region and the north Atlantic sections. Showers have also fallen on the south Atlantic and gulf coasts. The pressure remains high over the southeast and the northwestern area of high pressure and cool temperature is central over Montana and western North Dakota. SWISS BUSINESS HALTS WITH ARMY MOBILIZED

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—Swiss mills and factories are closed, business is at a standstill and enterprises dependent on manual labor are paralyzed, according to Dr. Charles Hub-scher, charge of the Swiss legation here.

With the army mobilized, Dr. Hub-scher said crops are rotting in the fields for lack of harvest hands, and the country faces starvation unless wheat is received from the United States.

"Switzerland will remain absolutely neutral," Dr. Hub-scher said. "It is her only course for self-preservation."

Shortage for food supplies has not begun to be felt as yet, however, and recent dispatches say American tourists still in Switzerland have experienced the best of treatment.

Bielovitka Forest, Lithuania.
In the great park Bielovitka forest, in Lithuania, which is about 150 miles in circumference, the primeval forest still stands, and all the wild animals native to central European forests are found there except bears and wolves, which were exterminated some years ago. Except for the roads which pass through it, the forest is unchanged. It is visited by few people except the foresters.
